

Pest R' Us Introduction for Eric Papadeas on Plenty More Love Radio Show with Rhonda Towns

This month, we are excited to have as our special guest Eric Papadeas, owner of Pest'R Us Exterminating out of Tempe. How might that be exciting you may ask? For most people, imagining a pest control guest as a guest on a talk show might not be your average guest. Well, Eric isn't your average pest control professional, as you will soon learn.

Eric's company, Pest'R Us Exterminating takes care of scorpions, ants, crickets, roaches, and other uninvited guests for residential and commercial accounts, but it's how Eric Papadeas takes care of his clients that really makes the difference. Known among all of his friends for his wit and humor, Eric never meets a stranger, and is a compassionate person who gives back not only to the community, but to his pest control clients as well. For instance, when a client has a baby he's likely to bring a gift. For Eric, it's all about karma - what goes around comes around, and giving is the most important thing in the world.

We're excited about Eric's visit to the Rhonda Towns radio show, and we look forward to the pest control tips he will share with us and a little education regarding those pesky pests.

Pest'R Us is the preferred pest control company for the East Valley, serving Maricopa, Ahwatukee, Tempe, Mesa Chandler, Gilbert, parts of Phoenix and Scottsdale for more than two decades.
